

We are all Friends

We are all different and it is okay.

Some of us have light skin and some of us have dark.

Some of us are girls and some of us are boys.

We are from all areas of the world.

Some of us have needs that make us unique.

Some of us have big families, and some of us have small families.

We all have special talents.

We are all friends.

We all have to eat and drink to live.

We all have to sleep to give our body energy.

We all have hearts to love.

We are all different and it is okay.

We are all friends.
