

Cut out all boxes. Mix them up on the floor or table, sitting with child. Teach similarities and differences to your toddler by looking at these beach balls and talking about what they see that is the same and what is different on them. (I.e. “Some have straight lines, and some have dots.”) Match and group same balls together with your child. Let them color the beach balls afterwards to show “same”.

