5. Teach to your child what the word "same" means: "Something that looks just alike." The easiest way to teach "the same" picture of something to a young child is to tell them what the pictures are, pointing to them both. Such as: "This is a flag, and this is a flag" as you point to both flags on the sheet. This type of teaching communication helps a young child understand the concept of "same."

Milestones to meet:

The child visualizes differences and similarities in cultural characteristics. The child can match pictures together that are the same.
