

Teaching Me

Making Time Meaningful Again

Kristin Miller, M.Ed. founded eTeachingMe in 2012 on the theory that anyone can teach and all children can learn!

She believes that learning is doing what you love and love what you're doing. Designing a curriculum exclusively for parents, and anyone alike, to use with their babies, toddlers and preschoolers gives time with our children a new meaning. Focusing on all "we have to do" and helping parents incorporate what "we can do" to strengthen the bond between ourselves and our child is the true meaning of learning, life, and time.

Our Mission

We value making time meaningful again for families and promoting life-long learning for all children!

Making Time Meaningful Again

What We Offer

We offer a variety of benefits for you to enjoy:

- Engaging daily lesson plans designed specifically for your child's age, ranging from 6 months to 5 years
- Educational resources for child growth and development
- Open-communication and support for parents to understand how and what to teach if requested
- Provides direct-interaction between parent and child daily
- Promotes positive guidance and reinforcement to prepare your child to be successful in their own way
- Milestone Assessments to keep track of your child's development during each lesson and activity

Our Social Spot

Our parents blog is written and designed to inform you of early childhood resources and tips, curriculum, activities, educational purposes, and for you to “have your time” to chat, read, and take a break from home-life reality!

Potential is in every child!

Ways we promote child individuality:

- Fostering their interests and what motivates them
- Planning for developmentally appropriate activities
- Focusing on the whole-child
- Providing activities that are meaningful and have a purpose
- Setting fun and engaging lessons into daily routines
- Encouragement and parent involvement

We Are Growing

We have big plans for the future:

- Franchising our curriculum through our “Tell-Show-Learn” Activity Classes
- Extending our curriculum to also provide online games that parents can do with their children at home or anywhere.
- Designing curriculum individually for schools and companies
- Open-communication and social outreach using online forums
